Offenbach in America.
The following letter from Offenbach is taken from the Paris Figaro:

NEW YORK, May 9, 1876.
MY DEAR FRIEND—Here I am at last in New York, after a fruitful passage. For three days and four nights we were tossed, tumbled and knocked about; the waves swept clean over the ship. The captain, a charming man, cool, too, and energetic, let me tell you, tried to keep up my courage. "It is splendid!" he said to me. "You should just see how the ship dashes right into the waves, only to come out magnificently a minute afterward!" "My dear Captain," I answered, "to see a tempest at a distance must be frightfully interesting, but I must say that to play a part in the piece as one of the actors has, to my mind, but precious little fun in it."

Let me give you a characteristic trait of a young American girl who was on board with her sister. At the very worst of the storm, when people were quietly saying their prayers and commending their souls to God (I was the last I assure you), the little American girl said to her sister—"Sister, you really ought to try and get down and fetch me my pretty little hat; I want to die in all my fine things!" "Shall we bring up your gloves, too?" quietly rejoined the younger.

About two miles from New York they stop at Quarantine. As we were expected the evening before they had organized an excursion to meet me; the vessel, decorated with Venetian lanterns, had on board newspaper men, sight-seers, a military band of sixty to eighty pieces, and they waited for me at Sandy Hook, but as we did not come the vessel put further out to sea, still hoping to meet us. They were jolly; they sang, laughed, played, and their prettiest airs; but as they got out sea sickness overcame them, and the musicians were not the last to feel its effects, which produce the same effect as that in Haydn's comic symphony, where the musicians disappear one after another and put out the lights as they go, only that ours had not put out the lights, and instead of giving forth sounds, they one after another turned—their insides into the sea.

We were soon hailed by a craft having on board the chief reporters of the New York press. You will understand that I took all pains in the world not to make quite a fool of myself, and I assure you that upon our arrival at New York, two hours afterward, we were already very good friends.

At night, on returning from the theatre (for on the very first day I went to two theatres), I saw a crowd assembled in front of my hotel, electric lights everywhere, so that you would have imagined yourself in broad daylight. Above the balcony of the hotel was an inscription in big letters:—"Welcome, Offenbach." An orchestra of about sixty musicians were serenading me; they played "Orpheus." "The Grand Duchesse." I dare not tell you of all the cheering, the shouts of "Hurrah for Offenbach!" I was forced to appear on the balcony, just like Gambetta, and I shouted out a tremendous "Thank you, gentlemen!"

On Saturday I was invited to a dinner given in my honor by the Lotus Club, one of the first clubs here—literary men, artists, merchants, bankers, many newspaper men of all shades of opinion. I send you the menu of toasts I replied to; that for a long time I had been liked by the Americans as a composer, and I hoped that when I should have the honor of being better known to them I should also be liked by them as a man. "I propose," said I, "the United States, but not the United States purely and simply, inasmuch as the arts, like nations, are brothers. I propose the States United to Europe."

That is about what I said, and it was cheered to the echo.
Yesterday (Monday) I was invited to the Press Club, nothing but newspaper men, charming fellows, witty all * * * the majority speaking French very well, * * * several of them having lived in France for greater or less periods.

Speeches about me, to which I replied as well as I could.

On Monday next I begin my concert at Gilmore's Garden. It is an artificial garden, something after the style of the Jardin d'Hiver that used to have in Paris; it will hold from 10,000 to 12,000 persons. I am sure that everything I have written to you in this will interest you, for it concerns me, and I know your life-long friendship for me. Adieu, my dear friend; I squeeze your hand a hundred times. Yours, &c
JACQUES OFFENBACH.

TOUGHENED GLASS—This manufacture is at present being carried on to a small scale in Pennsylvania. By this process lamps and tumblers can be toughened so as not to break. The glass, after having been run from the furnace and moulded, instead of being put into the annealing pot, is put into a hot bath, consisting of linseed oil and tallow. The bath is kept up to about 320 degrees. The ware, after dipping, is removed to a second bath with a temperature of 240 degrees. Lastly, the glass goes into a water bath. In England a very extensive factory is now under way, where the Bastic process will be carried on with all its newest improvements.

Hon. Robert Toombs.
Dr. J. S. Pemberton—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in giving my testimony to the virtues of your excellent Globe Flower Syrup, having used several bottles myself for an obstinate affection of the throat and voice, with most happy results. It is certainly the best remedy I have ever used, and quite pleasant to the taste.

Yours truly,
ROBERT TOOMBS.
Globe Flower Syrup cures Colds, Coughs, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pleurisy, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, and will positively cure Consumption. We shall publish in the Gazette Testimonials of great and good men of the nation, whose words cannot be doubted, in regard to the merits of Globe Flower Syrup. We prefer to let them speak.

MEDICINAL.
TAKE
SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR
For all Diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen.

After Forty Years' trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials of its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. It is eminently a Family Medicine, and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and DOCTORS' BILLS.

Your Regulator is one of the best family medicines I ever used. I have not spent one dollar for my family for medicine in five years, only for your Regulator, and must say it does all it says it will. You can also recommend it in Colic for Stock, it having cured a fine mule of mine worth five hundred dollars.—[J. A. Nelson, Macon, Ga.]

The Liver, the largest organ in the body, is generally the seat of the disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and DEATH will ensue.

If you feel DULL, DROWSY, DIZZIED, have frequent Headache, MOUTH TASTES badly, poor Appetite and Tongue Coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently.

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens.
"Occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator, with good effect."—[Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, Governor of Alabama.]

"Your Regulator has been in use in my family for some time, and I am persuaded it is a valuable addition to the medical science."—[Gov. J. Gill Shorter, Ala.]

"I have used the Regulator in my family for the past seventeen years. I can safely recommend it to the world as the best medicine I have ever used for that class of diseases it purports to cure."—[H. F. Thigpen.]

Baltimore Episcopal Methodist.
This medicine is acknowledged to have no equal as a Liver Medicine, containing those Southern Roots and Herbs which an all-wise Providence has placed in countries where Liver Diseases most prevail.

Lady's Endorsement.
"I have given your medicine a thorough trial, and in no case has it failed to give full satisfaction."—[Ellen Mescham, Chattahoochee, Fla.]

Professional.
"From actual experience in the use of this medicine in my practice, I have been, and am, satisfied to use and prescribe it as a purgative medicine."—[Dr. J. W. Mason.]

Florida M. E. Conference.
"I have used Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator in my family for Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, and regard it an invaluable remedy. It has not failed to give relief in any instance."—[Rev. W. F. Easterling.]

President Oglethorpe College.
"Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure."—[Rev. David Willis, my 11]
